Week 3

LA VARIETÀ DELL'INVENTIONE & ZAM ZAM WAS SUCH A WONDERFUL FEELING

Prune Bécheau - violin

Joel Grip - double bass

• guests

A duo of intense calm and tension, Prune and Joel met via the somewhat hidden scene of improvised music in Paris sharing a profound interest in the woody sound of pure gut strings as well as in the precise timing allowed through very open imaginative playing. Their instrumental setup is both old and modern inspired by baroque and swing as well as the music bolstered by people like Leroy Jenkins and Jamaaladeen Tacuma.

MAY 14-15 2019

Xenofox

Olaf Rupp - electric guitar

Rudi Fischerlehner - drums

"Combining the spirit and techniques of free jazz interplay with an unsparingly industrial appeal, the result is electrifying. ... When they're not playing off one another, they're crashing into one another. This is what rock and roll should sound like..." Kevin Press/exclaim!

MAY 16-17 2019

Der Lange Schatten

Håvard Wiik - piano

Michael Thieke - clarinet

Antonio Borghini- bass

The trio, established in summer 2009 and based in Berlin, is a collective project exploring improvisation through original compositions brought by each of the musicians involved.

Piano, reed and string instrument is a line-up deeply rooted in chamber's music tradition, "transparent" and yet capable of shaping a strong counterpoint, either of melodic lines or abstract soundscapes. After playing concerts at places such as Umlaut Festival/Paris and for the german radio station SWR the group released in 2014 the first selftitled CD at "lost opportunities". More concerts followed the release and in early 2016 the trio recorded a brand new repertoire, willing to investigate further its own music and get to a deeper understanding of its possibilities. The second cd "Concurrences" was released in 2018.

Extremely unknown music excavated and performed during a four-day residency at Au Topsis Pohl.

SATURDAY DECEMBER 21 2019

Hogir Göregen and friends

It is an absolute and evident experience listening to Hogir Göregen (davul). His playing, heralding Anatolian traditions, appears to be timeless, but in many ways it is on the spot, extremely time-full! It makes your shoes know for what they were made for; the dancing element of improvised based music is a rarity today! But here it is unquestionable. Hogir and his surprise guest(s)'s light and profound touch embrace us in an energising way for us to make it through the darkest day of the year.

Acoustic, astonishing, articulate, akimbo, Anatolian Au Topsis Pohl!

Come out for a pre-x-mas punch down your soles/souls.

TUESDAY DECEMBER 31

Silvester party with Tristan Honsinger & Friends
